Pony Racing Training days

To ensure that junior jockeys participating in pony racing have the necessary race-riding experience, the National Horseracing College holds training days for riders aged 9 – 15. Taking place during the school holidays, training commences at 1.30pm and runs until 4.30pm and is open to all, from those who have no previous experience of race-riding, through to seasoned jockeys.

Ponies of all shapes and sizes are welcome to take part. The overall aim of a training day is to improve the junior jockey's position, technique and confidence whilst riding at speed and to develop their understanding of race-riding and the horseracing industry.

Training days are run on a level based system:

Level 1 is the introductory level for riders who are attending their first training day, and those who have not ridden in any form of pony race. Progress to the next level is determined by the National Horseracing College jockey coach.

Level 2 is designed for jockeys who have taken part in two or more pony races (on the pony they intend riding during the day); this includes Pony Club races.

Level 3 is open to riders who have won a pony race or finished second/third in two or more pony races (on the pony they intend riding during the training day); this includes Pony Club Pony Races.

Training at all three levels includes tuition on balance, style, technique, pace, control and awareness. Training takes place on the gallops on the rider's own pony and on the racehorse simulators. Riders receive a certificate and a training report. Riders must have their own personal accident cover and PPE skull hat, body protector (level 3 standard) and boots etc. It is not necessary to purchase racing equipment to attend the Level 1 training day. A general purpose saddle, with sufficient holes in the stirrup leathers to shorten up will be appropriate.
